

Stockholm, April 12, 2016

Yanzi Networks one of the winners on 33-listan by Affärsvärlden & Ny teknik and awarded “Jumpstart” by Teknikföretagen

Yanzi Networks is one of Sweden's 33 hottest tech companies according to Affärsvärlden & Ny Teknik. Tonight, for the ninth year in a row, the winners of 33-listan were presented at Münchenbryggeriet in Stockholm. The jury was on the lookout for companies that offered an innovative product or service with great international potential – innovations that could become a game changer within the tech industry.

More information about 33-listan is to be found at <http://www.33-listan.se>

In addition to being one of the winners on 33-listan, Yanzi Networks was also awarded the “Jumpstart Award” by Teknikföretagen & Myra Design. Yanzi Networks did not only receive the recognition but also a design price check to the value of 100.000 SEK.

“We are truly proud to be awarded not only one time but two times during one single evening. The recognition of our innovative IoT platform for Smart Buildings is truly inspiring. Our North Star is cutting edge technology, ease of installation & maintenance and enterprise security, and these two awards gives us good proof points that we are heading in the right direction”, says Eva Fors, CEO Yanzi Networks.

More about Jumpstart Award can be found at , <http://www.teknikforetagen.se/sv/i-debatten/nyheter/2016/utmarkelsen-arets-jumpstart-ar-utdelat/> and <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=PX8fquUF6sA>

For more information, please contact:

- Eva Fors, CEO Yanzi Networks, +46 72 251 5603, eva.fors@yanzinetworks.com

About Yanzi Networks

Yanzi Networks has developed an open, fast, robust and evolutionary software and networking platform for IoT. Yanzi collaborates with the industry's largest vendors in order to deliver value to the real estate owners and facility management companies who wish to enter the world of Smart Buildings. Yanzi Networks AB is a venture backed company with headquarters in Kista, Sweden. www.yanzinetworks.com

About 33-listan

Which of today's technology start-ups have the potential to be the stock exchange giants of tomorrow? To find out, Affärsvärlden and Ny Teknik have come up with the most important list currently available – 33-listan. This list has existed for nine years, and all the judges are editors on the teams at Affärsvärlden and Ny Teknik.

About Ny Teknik

Ny Teknik is where you find the latest news, products, trends and innovations. Here you can read about start-ups with the potential to become the next Ericsson or Microsoft. Ny Teknik is at the forefront when it comes to coverage of expansive industries such as IT, telecom, energy and biotechnology, and we always provide useful insights on how new technology is applied within the industry. For more information, please contact susanna.baltscheffsky@nyteknik.se

About Affärsvärlden

Affärsvärlden is Sweden's top business magazine and one of the most important sources of economic and financial analysis in the country. The target audience consists of executives and key decision makers within the financial market, as well as of people in leading positions with a special interest in economy. For more information, please contact jon.asberg@affarsvarlden.se